

MOU: Healthcare Workforce Mobilization

UW Medicine will retain employees in their home community whenever possible to promote efficacy in care delivery and minimum disruption to employees' lives.

UW Medicine will attempt to employ non home healthcare workers (campus employees, retirees, students) and per diem staff. When possible, these employees will be used before mandatorily redeploying UW Medicine staff.

Process for redeploying permanent staff for COVID-19 pandemic

1. When possible, management will seek volunteers based on skills and competencies, including per diem employees. Employees facing furloughs, a decrease in hours, or "low census", will be given priority for redeployment when possible.
2. If enough staff do not volunteer or if there is not enough time to seek volunteers, staff will be mandated to redeploy as follows:
  - a. Departments will create and maintain a seniority list. Using their home departmental seniority, staff will be mandated using reverse seniority for all employees.
  - b. Once an employee works a mandated shift, they will go to the bottom of their departmental seniority list, in the order they worked.
  - a. If someone volunteers, they will also go to the bottom of the list, in the order they volunteered.
  - d. UW Medical Center (Harborview, UWMC-Montlake, UWMC-Northwest, including clinics) employees who are unable to work due to being part of the King County Public Health at-risk group (older than 60 or with an underlying medical condition) may request an accommodation.
    1. If a workplace accommodation cannot be granted, the employee may be granted a medical leave of absence under the terms and conditions of existing leave plans and have access to accrued time off benefits if granted leave. If the employee's paid time off accruals exhaust during the leave, the Employee can apply for Unemployment Insurance through the Employment Security Department. In order to maintain health insurance benefits, the Employee will be allowed to work from home for 8 hours per month until the employee is deemed eligible to return to work by the Employer or until the emergency declaration is lifted.
    2. When Possible, telework or alternative assignments may be provided as an accommodation for an employee who is an at-risk group identified by King County Public Health guidelines.
    3. Employees may have access to shared leave, if eligible, or may apply for PFML or Unemployment Insurance through the Employment Security Department.
3. Employee's "Home" CBA applies while mobilized to other facilities.
4. Employees are entitled to additional COVID-19 Reassignment premiums as follows:

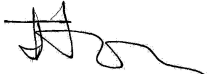

- a. Employees reassigned or floated outside of their home department or regular work location get $4 per hour COVID-19 reassignment premium. The COVID-19 reassignment premium includes float pay if applicable.
  - b. Notice of deployment assignment:
    - a. Whenever possible, all UW medical facilities will endeavor to provide 24 hours' notice to affected employees prior to mandatory deployment.
  - c. Travel reimbursement will be provided in accordance with the University travel policy. Employee travel will be considered time worked in accordance with the University travel policy and will be compensated in accordance with the employee's home Collective Bargaining Agreement.

7. Employees will not suffer a loss of their FTE as a result of a mandated reassignment.
